Contents

Preface to the Second Edition         Preface to the First Edition         Introductory         1 Introduction <ol> <li>Language keeps changing</li> <li>Types of linguistic change</li> <li>Language relationship</li> <li>A word of caution, or "Long live the speaker"</li> <li>A note on transcription and terminology</li> </ol> Appendix to Chapter 1:         Phonetics, phonetic symbols, and other symbols         The discovery of Indo-European         Language relationship         Proto-Indo-European         The Indo-European languages         Intermined in the Indo-European         Intermined in the Indo-European         Intermined in the Indo-European         Intermined in the Indo-European         Intermined in the Indo-European languages         Intermined in the Ind	v
Pr	eface to t	he First Edition	vii
In	troductor	y	1
1	Introdu	ction	3
-			3
			8
			14
			17
	5.	÷ -	19
A	ppendix to	o Chapter 1:
Ph	onetics, p	phonetic symbols, and other symbols	21
2	The dise	covery of Indo-European	34
	1.	Language relationship	34
	2.	Proto-Indo-European	38
	3.	The Indo-European languages	41
	3.1.	Celtic	42
	3.2.	Italic (Latin)	44
	3.3.	Germanic	46
	3.4.	Slavic	49
	3.5.	Baltic	51
	3.6.	Albanian	53
	3.7.	Greek	53
	3.8.	Anatolian	54
	3.9.	Armenian	55
	3.10.	Indo-Iranian	56
	3.10.1.	Iranian	57
	3.10.2.	Indo-Aryan (Sanskrit)	58
	3.10.3.	Indo-Iranians in the ancient Near East – the Mitanni	60
	3.11.	Tocharian	61
	3.12.	Other Indo-European languages	61
	4.	Abbreviations of Indo-European language names	62

3	Writing:	Its history and its decipherment	63
	1.	Introduction	63
	2.	History of writing	64
	2.1.	Oral traditions	64
	2.2.	Forerunners of writing	65
	2.3.	The development of writing in the Ancient Near
		East	69
	2.4.	The origination of full syllabaries and consonantal
		alphabets	79
	3.	The decipherment of ancient scripts	91
	3.1.	The decipherment of the cuneiform scripts	92
	3.2.	The decipherment of ancient Egyptian	94
	3.3.	Other decipherments	95
	4.	The phonetic interpretation of written records	98
	4.1.	Determining the nature of the script	98
	4.2.	Beginning to crack the code	99
	4.3.	Establishing phonetic values	100
	5.	Writing in the rest of the world	102
	5.1.	The Chinese system	102
	5.2.	Writing in Korea	104
	5.3.	Brahmi and the writing systems of India	105
	5.4.	Writing elsewhere	109
		-

Change in structure

4	Sound	change	113
	1.	Introduction	113
	2.	Grimm's Law	114
	3.	From Grimm's Law to Verner's Law	118
	4.	The regularity hypothesis and the neogrammarians	123
	5.	Some types of sound change	126
	5.1.	Assimilation, weakening, loss	126
	5.1.1.	Assimilation	127
	5.1.2.	Weakening	129
	5.1.3.	Loss	130
	5.2.	Epenthesis, the gain or insertion of speech sounds	131
	5.3.	Acoustically or auditorily conditioned changes	132
	5.4.	Structurally conditioned changes, "chain shifts"	133

111

	5.5.	Fast, furious, and faulty speech: Typically sporadic
		changes	137
	6.	Why sound change?	142
	6.1.	Early views	142
	6.2.	Neogrammarian explanations	143
	6.3.	Labov and the social motivation of change	146
5	Analog	y and change in word structure	150
	1.	Introduction	150
	2.	Relatively systematic analogy	151
	2.1.	Leveling	152
	3.	Sporadic or non-systematic analogy	161
	3.1.	Blending, contamination, and similar processes	161
	3.2.	Other sporadic processes	166
	4.	Morphological change	172
	5.	Analogy and phonology: Rule-governed, regular analogy	179
	6.	Hypercorrection – an interdialectal form of analogy	181
6	Syntac	tic change	183
	1.	Introduction	183
	2.	Questionable "syntactic" changes	184
	3.	Syntax, analogy, or both?	186
	4.	Me revisited, or the critics' revenge	188
	5.	A successful major shift: Word order in English and related languages	194
	6.	Conclusion	201
Cł	ange in	the lexicon	203
~
7		tic change	205
	1.	Introduction	205
	2.	The inherent fuzziness of meaning – polysemy,
		semantic overlap, metaphor	208
	3.	Synonymy and homonymy	213
	4.	The relationship between sound and meaning	215

5.	Factors responsible for semantic change	217
5.1.	Metaphor	218
5.2.	Taboo	220

5.2. Taboo

5.5.       Avoidance of synonymy, semantic differentiation       225         5.6.       Reinterpretation       226         5.7       Other linguistic changes       228         6.       The effects of semantic change       229         6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       241         8.       Lexical borrowing       243         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing more you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignizations for borrowing strategies       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       257         5.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymolog		5.3.	Onomatopoeia	223
5.5.       Avoidance of synonymy, semantic differentiation       225         5.6.       Reinterpretation       226         5.7       Other linguistic changes       228         6.       The effects of semantic change       229         6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words <t< td=""><td></td><td>5.4.</td><td>*</td><td>224</td></t<>		5.4.	*	224
5.6.       Reinterpretation       226         5.7       Other linguistic changes       228         6.       The effects of semantic change       229         6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once       you have borrowed it?         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of       borrowing         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2. <td></td> <td>5.5.</td> <td></td> <td>225</td>		5.5.		225
5.7       Other linguistic changes       228         6.       The effects of semantic change       229         6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once       you have borrowed it?         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Prop		5.6.		226
6.       The effects of semantic change       229         6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       241         8.       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing trategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290		5.7		228
6.1.       Social attitudes and change in connotations       230         6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290		6.		229
6.2.       Sporadic vs. systematic effects       233         6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4. <t< td=""><td></td><td>6.1.</td><td>•</td><td>230</td></t<>		6.1.	•	230
6.2.1.       Cardinal-point systems       233         6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.1. <t< td=""><td></td><td>6.2.</td><td>5</td><td>233</td></t<>		6.2.	5	233
6.2.2.       Syntax and systematic semantic shifts       236         7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.1.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.2.		6.2.1.	. ,	233
7.       Conclusion       240         8       Lexical borrowing       241         1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       272         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.1.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.2.       Coinage through borrowing       301         4.3.       Other		6.2.2.		236
1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       277         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4.       Coinage through semantic change       300         4.1.       Coinage through borrowing       301         4.3.       Other devices for coinage       301         4.4.       Concluding notes       302		7.		240
1.       Introduction       241         2.       The substance of borrowing       243         3.       Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?       247         4.       "Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of borrowing       257         5.       Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies       258         5.1.       Prestige relations and their effects       259         5.2.       Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization       262         6.       The effects of borrowing       277         9       Lexical change and etymology: The study of words       279         1.       Introduction       279         2.       Coinage       283         3.       Proper names: A case study in lexical origins       289         3.1.       Names of peoples and places       290         3.2.       Names of persons       294         4.       Coinage through borrowing       301         4.3.       Other devices for coinage       301         4.4.       Concluding notes       302	8	Lexical	borrowing	241
<ul> <li>Nativization, or how do you deal with a word once you have borrowed it?</li> <li>"Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing</li> <li>S. Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies</li> <li>S. Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies</li> <li>S. Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies</li> <li>S. Unguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization</li> <li>The effects of borrowing</li> <li>The effects of borrowing</li> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Coinage</li> <li>Proper names: A case study in lexical origins</li> <li>Proper names: A case study in lexical origins</li> <li>Names of peoples and places</li> <li>Names of persons</li> <li>Coinage through semantic change</li> <li>Coinage through borrowing</li> <li>Other devices for coinage</li> <li>Concluding notes</li> </ul>			-	241
you have borrowed it?2474. "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing2575. Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies2585.1. Prestige relations and their effects2595.2. Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization2626. The effects of borrowing2729 Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791. Introduction2792. Coinage2833. Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1. Names of peoples and places2903.2. Names of persons2944. Coinage through semantic change3004.3. Other devices for coinage3014.4. Concluding notes302		2.	The substance of borrowing	243
<ul> <li>4. "Hyper-foreignization" - A further effect of borrowing 257</li> <li>5. Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies 258</li> <li>5.1. Prestige relations and their effects 259</li> <li>5.2. Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization 262</li> <li>6. The effects of borrowing 272</li> <li>9 Lexical change and etymology: The study of words 279</li> <li>1. Introduction 279</li> <li>2. Coinage 283</li> <li>3. Proper names: A case study in lexical origins 289</li> <li>3.1. Names of peoples and places 290</li> <li>3.2. Names of persons 294</li> <li>4. Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang 298</li> <li>4.1. Coinage through borrowing 301</li> <li>4.3. Other devices for coinage 301</li> <li>4.4. Concluding notes 302</li> </ul>		3.	*
borrowing2575.Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies2585.1.Prestige relations and their effects2595.2.Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization2626.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage through semantic change3004.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302			you have borrowed it?	247
5.Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies2585.1.Prestige relations and their effects2595.2.Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization2626.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage through semantic change3004.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		4.	"Hyper-foreignization" – A further effect of
5.1.Prestige relations and their effects2595.2.Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization2626.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage through semantic change3004.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302			borrowing	257
5.2.Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social attitudes on nativization2626.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage through semantic change3004.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		5.	Why borrow? Motivations for borrowing strategies	258
attitudes on nativization2626.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		5.1.	Prestige relations and their effects	259
6.The effects of borrowing2729Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		5.2.	Linguistic nationalism or the effect of social
9Lexical change and etymology: The study of words2791.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302			attitudes on nativization	262
1.Introduction2792.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		6.	The effects of borrowing	272
2.Coinage2833.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302	9	Lexical	change and etymology: The study of words	279
3.Proper names: A case study in lexical origins2893.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		1.	Introduction	279
3.1.Names of peoples and places2903.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		2.	Coinage	283
3.2.Names of persons2944.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		3.	Proper names: A case study in lexical origins	289
4.Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang2984.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		3.1.	Names of peoples and places	290
4.1.Coinage through semantic change3004.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		3.2.	Names of persons	294
4.2.Coinage through borrowing3014.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		4.	Coinage in argots, jargons, and slang	298
4.3.Other devices for coinage3014.4.Concluding notes302		4.1.	Coinage through semantic change	300
4.4.Concluding notes302		4.2.	Coinage through borrowing	301
		4.3.	Other devices for coinage	301
Language and dialect 305		4.4.	Concluding notes	302
	La	nonada (	and dialect	305

10 Language, dialect, and standard3071. Introduction307

	2.	Language and dialect	308
	3.	Social dialects	313
	4.	Discontinuous dialects - Professional jargons and related forms of speech	314
	5.	Standard languages	316
	6.	Diglossia	324
	7.	Dialect borrowing	327
11	Dialect	geography and dialectology	332
	1.	Introduction	332
	2.	Patterns of dialect interaction	335
	2.1.	The Chicago sound shift revisited	335
	2.2.	The fate of long $*\overline{u}$ in the Low Countries	335
	3.	Focal, transition, and relic areas	337
	4.	Dialectology as a diagnostic tool	338
	5.	Isoglosses and the problem of defining regional dialects	340
	6.	Migration and dialect leveling	343
La	nguages	in contact	347
12	Langua	ge spread, link languages, and bilingualism	349
	1.	Introduction: Link languages and their sources	349
	2.	Interference and interlanguage	354
	3.	Code switching and code mixing	360
	4.	Substratum	362
	5.	Koinés	367
	6.	Outlook	369
13	Conver	gence: Dialectology beyond language boundaries	370
	1.	Introduction: Convergence defined	370
	2.	Convergence illustrated – Kupwar	374
	3.	The Balkans	377
	4.	South Asia	383
	5.	Europe	389
	6.	The dialectology of convergence areas	390
14	-	creoles, and related forms of language	392
	1.	Introduction: Foreigner Talk, "Tarzanian", and other
	-	simplified forms of speech	392
	2.	Pidgins defined	397

	3.	Pidgin origins	400
	3.1.	"Imperfect learning"	400
	3.2.	The "racial-inferiority" argument	402
	3.3.	The Portuguese Proto-Pidgin hypothesis	402
	3.4.	Foreigner Talk and the origin of pidgins	405
	4.	Trade Jargons and other pidgin-like languages	408
	5.	Creoles	411
	6.	Decreolization and African American
		Vernacular English	415
15	Langua	ge death	419
La	nguage r	elationship	425
16	Compa	rative method: Establishing language relationship	427
	1.	Introduction	427
	2.	Chance similarities, onomatopoeia, and
		"nursery words"	431
	3.	Similarities due to linguistic contact	433
	4.	Systematic, recurrent correspondences	435
	5.	Shared idiosyncrasies	437
	6.	Reconstruction	438
	7.	What can we reconstruct and how confident are we of our reconstructions?	441
	8.	Language families other than Indo-European	445
17	Proto-W	Vorld?: The question of long-distance genetic relation	ships	455
	1.	Introduction	455
	2.	Longer-distance comparison	458
	3.	Are there any unrelated languages?	466
	4.	Lexical mass comparison:
		Can it establish "Proto-World"?	466
	5.	The origin of Language	472
18	Historical linguistics, history, and prehistory:
	Linguis	tic paleontology and other applications of our methods	477
	1.	Introduction	477
	2.	Linguistic comparison as a detective's tool -
		the Tasaday of the Philippines	477
	3.	Comparative linguistics and comparative law	479

4.	Comparative reconstruction as a window on prehistory – Linguistic paleontology	481
4.1.	Material culture and economy	481
4.2.	Ecology and the question of the "original home"	486
4.3.	Religion, mythology, and poetic tradition	493
4.4.	Society	495
4.5.	The question of "race" and related problematic issues	498
5.	Dating the Indo-Europeans	504
6.	Realism in reconstruction	506
7.	Conclusions and outlook	509
Chapter notes and suggested readings
Copyright acknowledgments References
Subject and name index		