

-----Contents-----

Introduction	xi
Contributors	xvii

Part 1: Descriptive Linguistics

1. Noun class 9/10 tone in Central Ring Grassfields Bantu: An overview Pius W. Akumbu	1
2. What is length compensating for? A surface-based account of NC lengthening Diana Archangeli & Douglas Pulleyblank	15
3. Evidence for the existence of a phonological and an intonational domain in Babanki Esther P. Chie	31
4. Multiverb constructions and the homorganic nasal in Nda?nda? Hugues Carlos Gueche Fotso	47
5. Personal pronoun encliticization in Masa Guillaume Guitang	79
6. Lusoga noun phrase tonology Larry M. Hyman	93
7. Salient features of the noun class system of Kung in a Ring perspective Roland Kießling	139
8. Cultural distinctiveness and linguistic esoterogeny: The case of the Fang language of Lower Fungom, Cameroon Patrick Mve, Nelson C. Tschonghonge, Pierpaolo Di Carlo & Jeff Good	163
9. The semantic system of Proto Nyang noun classes Magdaline Bakume Nkongho	179
10. Sound symbolism in gender and number distinction in Masa Ousmanou	195
11. On the licensing of nominals in Kinande Patricia Schneider-Zioga	217

12. Long and short vowels in Chumburung: An instrumental comparison Keith Snider	249
13. Motivating metrical feet in Bezen Emmanuel Tabah	265
Part 2: Applied and Socio-linguistics
14. Shifts in the ethno-linguistic construction of personal names in Bafut and inherent grammatical peculiarities Melvice Asohsi	281
15. Exploring linguistic landscape as a teaching approach to language awareness in Cameroon's secondary schools Lydie Christelle Talla Makoudjou & Solange Mekamgoum	301
16. Animism in Mmaala proverbs and idioms Edmond Ossoko	323
17. Traditional religion in Manyu: Some sociolinguistic issues and relevance Florence A. E. Tabe	333
18. Language attrition and loss of indigenous knowledge: The case of some Form Three and Terminal students of GHS Domayo and GBHS Maroua James N. Tasah	343
19. A sociolinguistic analysis of Bali Nyonga magic lexis Eunice Tita	357
Part 3: Socialization
20. Achieving sustainable language preservation through economic empowerment in endangered language settings in West Africa Emmanuel Ngué Um	375
21. Discourse analysis of HIV/AIDS drug adherence counselling sessions in the Bamenda Regional Hospital Kilian Tameh & Lilian Lem Atanga	397
22. Conveying the AIDS prevention message: A supplement to Wish I had known Philip Mutaka	415
Curriculum Vitae of Ngessimo M. Mutaka	453
Index	465