INTRODUCTORY REMARKS

T. Sugimura	1
-------------------	---

KEYNOTE LECTURE

Intracellular distribution of the APC protein indicates multiple functions

R. L. White	5

CATENIN AND COLON TUMORIGENESIS

Loss of β -catenin regulation by mutations in the β -catenin gene or by inactivation of the APC tumor suppressor

P. Polakis, I. Albert, P. Robbins and B. Rubinfeld	10
--	----

Genes that cause intestinal tumors in the mouse

M. M. Taketo	15
--------------------	----

GENOMIC INSTABILITY

Genomic instability and the microsatellite mutator phenotype for gastrointestinal cancer

M. Perucho	19

Structural and biological characteristics of amplicon in cancer

M. Terada	24

SIGNALING

Cellular signaling by tyrosine phosphorylation
J. Schlessinger	27
TGFβ signalling
J. L. Wrana	29

APOPTOSIS

The viral protein Apoptin specifically induces apoptosis in human transformed and tumor cells
M. H. M. Noteborn, A. A. A. M. Danen-van Oorschot, S.-M. Zhuang, Y. Zhang, A. M. Pietersen, M. M. van der Eb, S. Olijslagers, R. C. Hoeben, B. Klein, P. Abrahams, A.-G. Jochemsen, H. van Ormondt and A. J. van der Eb	36

ANIMAL GENOMICS

Establishment of a high-throughput mapping system of the rat and its application to the susceptibility to MNNG-induced gastric cancer
T. Ushijima, T. Sugimura and M. Nagao	43
Cancer genetics of the Eker rat model of cancer predisposition syndromes
O. Hino	47

MUTATOR GENE

Genome instability, mutator genes and cancer susceptibility
R. D. Kolodner	50

ONCOGENE I

Oncogenic consequences of genomic EGF receptor rearrangements
W. K. Cavenee, R. Nishikawa, M. Nagane, S. Prigent, Y. Han, A. Nanda, J. Feramisco, G. Gill, H. S. Wiley and H.-J. Su Huang	53

Molecular mechanism of transcriptional modulation by a chimeric transcription factor AML1-MTG8 resulting from t(8;21) associated with AML
I. Kitabayashi, K. Ida, F. Morohoshi, A. Yokoyama, N. Mitsuhashi, K. Shimizu, N. Nomura, Y. Hayashi and M. Ohki	55

TUMOR SUPPRESSOR GENE

Genetics of human cancer
C. M. Croce	59
The involvement of the patched/hedgehog signalling pathway in common human cancer and developmental anomalies
B. J. Wainwright	66
The TSG101 gene and cancer
S. N. Cohen, W. Xie and L. Li	71

TARGET GENES

Looking downstream: the importance of oncogene targets
P. K. Vogt, M. Aoki, H. W. Chang, S. Fu, M. E. Goller, J. S. Iacovoni, B.-H. Jiang, U. Kruse, D. Fruman, K. P. Auger, A. Bellacosa, P. N. Tsichlis, T. M. Roberts and L. C. Cantley	73
Isolation of p53-target genes
Y. Nakamura	77

NAKAHARA MEMORIAL LECTURE

Genetic analysis of breast and ovarian cancer: from families to new therapies

M.-C. King 80

ONCOGENE II

The ret oncogene: one gene, many syndromes

B. A. J. Ponder 82

CHROMOSOME

Analysis of genomic alterations in neoplastic tumors by molecular cytogenetic approach

J. Inazawa, S. Ishino, C. Sakakura, T. Shinomiya, Y. Ariyama,
T. Sakabe, T. Mori, T. Abe and Y. Nakamura 85

Genetic mapping using genomic engineering and functional assay

M. Oshimura 88

CpG ISLAND

The isolation of CpG islands from human chromosomal regions by means of segregation of partly melted molecules and identification of highly methylated CpG islands in human cancers

T. Sekiya and M. Shiraishi 91

GENOME SCANNING

Genome scanning to genes: positional cloning at 3q26 and 20q13.2

J. W. Gray, C. Collins, L. Daneshvar, J. Rommens, W.-L. Kuo, M. Tanner, M. Palazzolo, C. Martin, S. Hwang, D. Kowbel, G. Mills, D. Albertson and D. Pinkel	95

EMERGING TECHNOLOGY

Full-length cDNA libraries preparation by trehalose-thermo-stabilized reverse transcriptase and modified cap trapper

P. Carninci and Y. Hayashizaki	99

Novel genetic methods to study cancer and other diseases

A. Kamb	102
---------------	-----

Applications of DNA microarrays to cancer research

P. O. Brown	104
-------------------	-----

Genomics and DNA chips

D. J. Lockhart, L. Wodicka, J.-B. Fan, R. Mei, R. Lipshutz, M. S. Chee and S. P.A. Fodor	108
---	-----

List of Participants	111
