
Contents

List of illustration	ix
Preface	xi
PART I
Introductions	I
1 In the cave of thunder: sacred places in a northern landscape	3
2 Overworlds and underworlds: sacred places in a Classical landscape	18
3 Nature study: the archaeological potential of unaltered places	33
PART 2
Explorations	45
4 Presenting arms: the locations of votive deposits in prehistoric Europe	47
5 Seeing through stone: rock art research as landscape archaeology	64
6 The movement of mountains: production sites and the archaeology of places	81
7 The origin of spaces: monuments and the natural topography	97

PART 3
Interpretations	115
8 The history of the world: a case study from Neolithic Britain	117
9 Walking on water: a case study from Bronze Age Scandinavia	132
10 A long-playing record: the significance of natural places in later prehistoric Europe	147
Bibliography	162
Index	174