

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments ix

List of Abbreviations xiii

Note on Transliterations and Translations xv

Introduction: Early Chroniclers of the Holocaust: Jewish Historical Commissions and Documentation Centers in the Aftermath of the Second World War 3

1. Khurban-Forshung: History Writing as a Jewish
Response to Catastrophe 18

2. Writing French Judaism's "Book of Martyrdom": Holocaust
Documentation in Liberated France 46

3. Writing Polish Jewry's "Greatest National Catastrophe":
Holocaust Documentation in Communist Poland 84

4. Writing History while Sitting on Packed Suitcases: Holocaust
Documentation in the Jewish Displaced Persons Camps of Germany,
Austria, and Italy 121

5. Joining Forces to Comprehend the Jewish Catastrophe:
The Attempt to Establish a European Community of Holocaust Researchers 160

Conclusion: History Writing as Reconstruction: The Beginnings of Holocaust Research from the Perspective of Its Victims 186

Appendix: Major Participants in the Jewish Historical Commissions and Documentation Centers 207

Notes 223

Bibliography 281

Index 309